I am so sorry for your loss. I know what you are feeling, and nothing can take away your hurt other than time. Here is a poem someone shared with me when my father passed that I would like to share with you:

*Feel no guilt in laughter, she'd know how much you care.
Feel no sorrow in a smile that she is not here to share.
You cannot grieve forever; she would not want you to.
She'd hope that you could carry on the way you always do.
So, talk about the good times and the way you showed you cared,
The days you spent together, all the happiness you shared.
Let memories surround you, a word someone may say
Will suddenly recapture a time, an hour, a day,
That brings her back as clearly as though she were still here,
And fills you with the feeling that she is always near.
For if you keep those moments, you will never be apart
And she will live forever locked safely within your heart.*

Please know that I am thinking of you and Doug and praying for your family.

“ Sorry for your loss and know you will be in my thoughts and prayers. In the days before political correctness and when we were living on Princeton, I remember you as kids trick or treating. We put the usual candy in your bags as well as a few beers for your mom and dad. I will always be grateful that they did not call the authorities.
