“ Andy,

I remember the old days sitting around your house with your older brothers coming and going. I also remember your dad quite well. He was much younger in those days, and I can still picture him sitting in his chair in your living room. No matter how loud you Kunkel's played, I never recall him complaining; he was as cool as his kids were. May your memories ease you at night, and know that you are your father's son and therefore he still walks this Earth! Prayers to you my friend.

“ Candy & Kunkel Family;

Bernie and I volunteered together at Habitat for several years driving the pick up truck. He was a good man that often spoke of his family. I'm sorry for your loss.
