“ I so enjoyed any conversations I had with Brother Ferris. His wit made for a bright spot in the day. I will miss his observations on people and situations. I know he's with a few of his friends and wish I could listen in to their conversations. I haven't forgotten that I still owe him lunch. Bro, you can collect when we next meet.

“ Bro- you will be missed on Earth but I know Heaven is rejoicing. Before I started teaching at Cardinal Gibbons I knew about you through my son, John. He said that you were the best teacher he ever had. (and he graduated from FSU Law). I do have to tell on you. When I started teaching Environmental Science, we did an experiment where the student would analyze the air in the room. One of my students was analyzing the air in your room. She called me over to look in the microscope because she could not identify a particle. I looked at it and immediately realized it was a piece of tobacco. You were smoking in your room. (LOL) Of course, I did not tell the student but did get a laugh about it. You were caught. I will never forget your wonderful smile and how much joy you brought to Cardinal Gibbons. I will see you again in Heaven.

“ May God forever bless you in eternal life. Your kindness and commitment to shaping and positively influencing youth with a servant's heart will be remembered, respected, and honored. May your family feel comfort and their hearts be healed by time and understanding the impact you made in the world.

“ We laughed, we cried a lot together. Working with you for 20 some years was a pleasure. We were friends. You kid me all the time about you being a brother, and told me things that I would say really!! And then laugh at me so hard you would tell people, in fact the entire school what you did. I will give one example how you would drive me crazy. You came out of mass and we always chatted afterwards, and I said to you, I need you to give me your rope because it is so yellow looking compared to the other priests, I will bleach it!! Of course then you give me this made up story why you can not wear white 🙏♀️🙏♀️ I have so many memories that I could write a book. I will miss you my friend and will keep my fond memories of you always. Many times you have said to me, I can not wait to go to heaven, I miss my mom so much. Well Bro, I know you have your arms around her now and that gives me great comfort. Till we meet again, oh maybe you get to wear white up there finally. Rest In Peace my friend. Love Penny Jo 💕💕

Bro, as I sit here in sadness over your passing, I recall so many stories and memories that make me smile. Thanks for being my mentor and my coffee-buddy friend. Oh we weren't supposed to have coffee in the classroom! I'm sure that the stories are flying with Fr. Charles, Oscar, Fr. Pala and the others, of course monitored by Fr. K. Enjoy your homecoming and keep watch over us! Dick Littlefield, Jay, and Jenn
