“ I was, of course, sad to hear of Darryl's passing. Darryl came regularly to The Victory Center for support services during his battle with cancer. I was surprised to learn he had played music with my brother, Tym, and brother, Neal, as well, and even showed me his scrapbook of the many adventures he and Tym had in Vegas. Everyone at The Victory Center loved to hear Darryl's stories, and he was so very kind to everyone here. God Bless You, Darryl.....you and Tym enjoy catching up with one another!! Love you!

“ I Loved Darryl Stipes, he was a beautiful person, he took me in to his arms when my husband Todd L. Isaacson passed away in 2009 and opened his home to me out of his heart. He took care of me when I lost the most important person in my life and I guarantee, he has done that for many people. Please remember him for the MAN that he was. He will never be forgotten. May his soul live in all of our hearts. Peace to my friend Darryl Stipes.##imported-begin##Jennifer Pastin##imported-end##
