“ Florence always talked about dancing. She was extremely generous with her gift giving. I remember one Christmas she bought Melissa and I necklaces that were replicas of the "Titanic" heart of the ocean. Everytime I watch the movie I have to put the necklace on. It reminds me of better days when Melissa, Karen, Florence, and myself would get together on Friday's and watch General Hospital and movies, generally, the girly flicks where boy meets girl. She will b missed!
