“ As we remember how our life is touch by my grandma, I remember all of us getting together for Christmas in the years past. I remember the joy on her face as we sat to eat as all of everyones preparation was done. I remember sneaking cookies and seeing her smile as I was busted without anyone else being notified. I remember that look when enough is enough. As the creator has placed us all where he needs us most to do our work as we think he would have us do. I am thankful. Thankful to all of my family who gave of themselves to watch over my grandma with all the love and caring we all hope to have in our time of need. I feel her journey to the next place will be easy for her and our family who are there are happy and already walking with her home.
