“ Jeff was a selfless man with a big heart. He loved coming to work to help other veterans. He was getting paid to do what he loved. He brightened up our work day with his jokes and carefree personality. He gave us gifts even though he didn't have much to give. He loved to talk about fishing and shared his personal stories from the service with me. I learned a lot about helicopters from him. I'll miss seeing J.D. every day.
