

John C Kelleher, III MD

December 9, 1970 - January 26, 2020

John C. Kelleher, III, MD 1970-2020 John died peacefully on the morning of January 26, 2020, surrounded by his family in West Hollywood, California. He was 49. Born in Dallas, Texas, December 9, 1970 – his paternal grandmother’s 50th birthday – John touched many lives throughout his lifetime in all the places he lived: Dallas, TX; Toledo, OH; Amarillo, TX; Providence, RI; Nagoya, Japan; New York City, NY; and Los Angeles, CA. Those who were fortunate to know John, loved him deeply. John demonstrated a genuine kindness and compassion for every person he encountered. His ever-gracious demeanor garnered him friendships wherever he went. Even in his last days he was fist bumping doctors, complimenting a nurse on her earrings, and offering friends and visitors food and drink. Brain cancer robbed John of his language, but not his uncanny ability to make a person feel special and loved. His smile was endearing, laugh infectious, and silliness adored. John was a dedicated actor, director, singer, dancer, cellist, and pianist. He played Linus, Snoopy, Little John, and countless other memorable parts at the Amarillo Little Theater when he was young. He later studied at the Neighborhood Playhouse in New York City. He played the cello at his sister’s wedding. He was the Nutcracker Prince in Amarillo. He was a waiter, serving seafood towers for many years at Balthazar in New York City. He was a reader, art lover, traveler, and knitter. He was a consummate host. He was a perpetual student. John graduated from Brown University in 1993 with a Bachelor of Arts in Art History and East Asian Studies, studied abroad in Nagoya, Japan, and was fluent in Japanese. He studied medicine, also at Brown, with an emphasis on psychiatry, and completed his residency in psychiatry at UCLA. So that he could deepen his understanding of the mind and further help his patients, John was in the process of completing his psychoanalytic training at The New Center for Psychoanalysis in Los Angeles when he was diagnosed with a malignant brain tumor. John was renowned by his colleagues for his kindness and compassion, and ability to treat difficult patients. His patients called him their friend. He was a cherished friend, son, and brother. He was Greg's dear husband. He was Phoebe's ever-loving Papa.

While this is the end to a truly extraordinary life, it is not the end of his legacy. John will live in all of us in the ways he impacted us, and in our hearts, minds and souls. John is survived by his loving husband, Greg Okin, and his adventurous beautiful daughter, Phoebe Okin-Kelleher, of Los Angeles, CA; his parents, John and Cindy Kelleher of Amarillo, TX and Vail, CO; his siblings, Kristin Danford and husband Scott, (children Henry and Kelly) of Englewood, CO, Brian Kelleher and wife Amanda (children Deaven, Callie and Brenna) of Amarillo, TX, and Brooke Cozort and husband Craig (children Owen and Margaret) of Littleton, CO; and his grandmother who shares his birthday, Rose Mary Kelleher, of Toledo, OH. A celebration of John's life will be held in Amarillo, Texas at Boxwell Brothers Funeral Home at 4pm on Sunday, February 16, 2020. “ I stumbled across this obituary and wonder if this is the same Dr. John Kelleher that worked at 9171 Wilshire in 2012. If not, I humbly apologize.

If so, this man saved my life. I was in the deepest and darkest place in my life, and somehow I found my way into his offices by sheer luck. He was the first and only psychiatrist that I felt a sense of genuine empathy from. I could not afford to continue seeing him after a certain point, even with the very generous sliding scale that he offered to me, but the 10 sessions that I had with him, coupled with the right rx treatment plan that he put me on, halted my path towards definite suicide.

I have thought of him often since then, and hold him in my memory as the man that saved my life.

I am so deeply saddened to learn of his passing and hope that this message reaches his loved ones. Please know he is very special to yet another stranger they may never meet.
