“ Joe was a good man, smart and would always lend a hand when asked and not asked, that was just his way. I will miss my brother immensely. I remember he always told me to always try hard, go further, you can do whatever you put your mind to. I love you Joe, you're with the angels now and will always be thought of with love and affection.

“ Carol, Luke, Jack, Bill and all family, we offer our deepest condolences. I have known most of you my whole life. Joe, Steve Magnetta, and I were the three banditos at St Charles. For some reason, Joe and I had to fight every day on the playground just to prove it, I guess. Many fond memories remain of the Collins family, and more will be made despite this tragic time.##imported-begin##patti & mike rahn mrahn1138@hotmail.com##imported-end##

“ Dear Joe, We hugged and said it's good to be best friends again, I said Joe you have always been my best fiend August 31st 2011. We caught our limit in perch that day, and had a great night of fun. The next Morning we got up I packed your lunch and sent you out with John and John for another limit of perch. We hugged again and said good bye. I could not have imagined it would be our last.
