“ Kelly was a very special cousin. She had the best laugh and was very generous. I loved hearing the stories about all the fun she had visiting her friends, including Jim in Michigan. She was so excited to be a mom and teacher. I am sure she is singing to the children in heaven with her angelic voice.

“ The best of the memories: Benji, ear piercing, the leech from the creek, moving 'home', meeting Jim, moving 'away', all the phone talks waiting for bed rest to end and Emily to make her arrival, Joe and Osh Kosh, Abby who for a day was going to be a boy, moving 'home' again, all the potential in her voice when she talked about her students, card clubs, talks about Cate, and a special godmother to Evan. I know Grandpa was there to meet you when you arrived. You always had an angel's voice, so I know that's what heaven must sound like.
