“ I was eight years old last time I saw Margaret, but I remember her well, she was like a second mother to me and was a very positive influence.

“ Margaret was an absolutely incredible person. Warm, kind, funny, phenomenally intelligent and perceptive, strong, generous and so very loving. She possessed more common sense than anyone I've ever known. One never had to guess where she stood on any given subject; that is a tremendous gift. I loved when she came to visit at Christine's and feel beyond blessed for having known her. My sincerest sympathies to all of her beloved family. She will be forever be so very fondly remembered.
