“ So sorry for your loss.
Your Mother and I graduated from (the then) St. Vincent School of Nursing together in 1957 and shared many experiences. Her quiet demeanor, dry wit and caring personality made her a great nurse.
Know that you are all in prayers.

Rosemary,, it was great to hear from one of mom's classmates, I know a lot of you grew close together, and St. Vincent's always seemed to a have a special meaning to mother. God Bless You.

“ I remember when my daughter was born and my mom came to see her in Michigan. I was in the living room when I heard her come through the front door. I picked up Zoey & went into the kitchen and mom took one look at her and dropped everything she was carrying, ran over and took zoey from my arms. I had a hard time getting her back.

“ Momma, I love you so much and will miss you greatly. You were my everything. My home. My light. My best friend. From you I learned the value of patience and compassion. I learned to be flexible. I learned to love. Your love enveloped me every moment of my life. I always felt safe and loved. I felt worthy. My babies loved you fiercely. I know your spirit will be with me and in my heart but it doesn't help the pain right now. I'm glad you no longer struggle. That was so painful to watch. Especially in the moments when you knew you weren't right. So I'll take comfort in your peace. I'll love you always and look forward to seeing you again in heaven. ❤️❤️
