“ In the 1960s Dede was one of the gang of kids who grew up together on Island Ave and Westmeyer St. I spent countless hours with her hanging out in our basement, riding bikes to “the filter”, swimming, building “leaf houses” and sailing on our family boat. Dede was the youngest of the group of girls but trust me, she did not let the rest of us boss her around. When my mom died, my sister found a letter Dede had written to my mom, saying how much she meant to Dede growing up. Connie and I read it at mom’s memorial service, the thoughts expressed in Dede’s letter were so poignant and meaningful to me and my siblings. Dede also said she attributed her frugality to my mom and considered it a compliment when her husband called her a “Ta” (my mom’s nickname). I was so sad to hear of Dede’s death and know she will be missed terribly by her family and close friends. Leah, I wish I could be there with you for the memorial. Katharine Alter
