“ Tom

My deepest sympathies to you and your family. I didn't know your mom but from the gleam in her eye I can tell she was a probably a wonderful person. Here is a poem I hope will help:

When tomorrow starts without me, and I'm not there to see; If the sun should rise and find your eyes, all filled with tears for me; I wish so much you wouldn't cry, the way you did today, while thinking of the many things, we didn't get to say. I know how much you love me, as much as I love you, and each time that you think of me, I know you'll miss me too; But when tomorrow starts without me, please try to understand, that an Angel came and called my name, and took me by the hand, and said my place was ready, in heaven far above, and that I'd have to leave behind, all those I dearly love. But when I walked through heaven's gates, I felt so much at home. When God looked down and smiled at me, from His great golden throne, He said, "This is eternity, and all I've promised you. Today your life on earth is past, but here it starts anew. I promise no tomorrow, but today will always last, and since each day's the same way, there's no longing for the past." So when tomorrow starts without me, don't think we're far apart, for every time you think of me, I'm right here, in your heart.##imported-begin##Gary Madson##imported-end##

“ Mary Kay and my mom and Aunt were life long friends, having attended SUA and Mary Manse together. I know they are celebrating in Heaven this week, and will be friends for eternity now. Her bright smile and loving personality will always be how I remember her. God Bless all the Kanarys and Albregts during this sad time of loss, but the faith she instilled in each of you will sustain you. She will be greatly missed.##imported-begin##Kate Sullivan Wesolowski xraykate43@yahoo.com##imported-end##
