“ *The last time I saw Maxine was at the funeral home where I shared her feeling of loss when Patti died. I remember Maxine mainly from Tri Delta family activities when I was in college. It was always welcoming and fun at her house. It gives me a peaceful feeling that she is reunited with her beloved daughter, who passed away far too soon. My sincere condolences to Michael, Douglas, and Jeffrey, whom I met just once, at the funeral home. I'm sure you will miss your grandmother very much. She was a lovely lady. “ Seeing Mrs. Weeber's obituary in today's paper brought back a flood of memories. Weeber's house was could be seen from our house on Eleanor. I often visited their Craigwood home. Webbers were very active in Pilgrim Church and were my Sunday School teachers. Pat was among the many children in the neighborhood and her parents were great examples of a loving family, just like so many of the Pilgrim people. As I go by Craigwood each day I have often thought of The Webbers. She has lived a good life.
