“ This man was the father of an amazing son and a beautiful daughter!!

He raised the most amazing man that I am proud to call my husband. I was fortunate enough to get to know him and we had many talks about life and I was able to learn how proud he was of his children. My husband is heartbroken over the loss of his father, his friend and his role model. He said his dad taught him more than he will ever know.

When a parent is gone there is void that will never be filled, answers that will never be answered, and time that will never be spent the same way.

We will fill our hearts with the memories we have and remember the lessons that he taught us.

I was blessed to have the time that I did with Ray and I will keep his memories in my heart always!!!

May he rest in peace.
