“ Bob, Thank you for being there for me growing up. You and Kay were like a second set of parents and always supportive of us growing up. The both of you always provided an ear for listening and advice that I carry with me to this day. My memories of always having something to eat or drink when I came over, the loving advice from you and Kay, the love and friendship of feeling like a family member I hope will never fade! I'll miss our email chats, our facebook comments and the occasional phone conversations when there was more to say then there was room to type. I'm happy that you've made the trip to our eternal resting place with the Lord and reconnecting with our loved ones. I know you missed and wanted to be with Kay and now the Lord has granted your request. I'll say a few "Our Fathers" and "Hail Mary's" for you before bed tonight. Rest easy and I'll look forward to seeing you again.

With all my love, Mark Bamberg

I am so sorry to have learned of Bob's passing. I never met him in person, but came to know him via email correspondence (and later Facebook) after my grandmother, his cousin Josephine, passed away. He was such a kind, caring and devout man, devoted to his family and to his beloved Kay. He recently had the chance to have a video messenger call with my dad, Wayne, and I know it brought my dad great happiness to actually "see" and talk with him for the first time in decades. I am so sorry for your loss, but know he is in his glorified body, in the presence of our Lord, and reunited with the love of his life. May God bring you all comfort and peace during this time, and bless you always.
