“ *Ann, Vijay & family,
We were sorry to hear of the passing of Satish, although I had heard his health was failing. I am sure it will be hard for Vijay; we will keep all of you in our prayers.
Although it is nice to have a job, being in Fremont is not convenient for these affairs. I hope to catch up with you sometime.

“ Dear Ann,

I read of Satish's death with sadness. I know these past few years have been difficult ones for you and your family as his health deteriorated, and now all of you are required to begin a new chapter of your lives. His touching obituary certainly accurately reflected not only his life but Satish himself. I have always admired your dedication to both your family and others. I wish all of you peace and comfort.
